

Call for papers closed: Special Issue on Global Approaches to Family Social Work Research

The deadline to submit manuscripts to be included in the Special Issue on Global Approaches to Family Social Work Research is over. We are happy to announce that several papers from researchers around the world have been submitted. The guest editor, Jarosław Przeperski, PhD will review the manuscripts to ensure they meet the strict criteria of the journal, Research on Social Work Practice. Accepted manuscripts will then undergo peer-reviews before publication. We anticipate that the special issue will be published in Research on Social Work Practice within the 1st quarter of 2021. We wish to thank all who have submitted their papers for consideration.
